SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1861. PROCEEDINGS AT GOSPORT NAVY. YARD. PORTSMOUTH, VA., Monday,

April 22, 1861. Editors Petersburg Express: The events of the last two days have been of the most thrilling character. Saturday morning it was discovered that something unusual was going forward at the navy-yard, and particularly on board the receiving ship Pennsylvania, and the frigate Cumberland, both of which were lying at the yard. It was finally ascertained that the entire force of the ships were engaged in destroying the government property. A great many small arms were broken and thrown into the river, and the beautiful Howitzer battery on board the Germantown shared the same fate. The immense sheers used for boisting masts into ships, were cut down and thrown di- Radish, Rhubarb, Salsafy, Spinach, Squash, Tomreceiv neross the latter vessel. When the ato, Turnip; also, Herb and Flower SEEDS, all the public became aware of what was going on, the excitement was very great, and was intensified by the rumor that the yard would be fired at night; this was suspected from the activity with which combustible material had been collected through the day .-About 8 o'clock, Saturday night, a piratical looking craft made its appearance and took every body by surprise, as it was belicyed that the channel had been so obstructed as to prevent the passage of a vessel of its size. It turned out to be the gun boat Pawnee, having on board, as we afterwards ascertained, about 650 Massachusetts troops. As is approached the yard, cheer after cheer went up from the several crews, the band on board the Pennsylvania performing several national airs, among which were "Yankee Doodle" and the "Star Spangled Banner." The yard and the two cities were wholly in their power as they well knew, there not being a single piece of heavy ordnance here save what was in their hands. Soon after the arrival of the Parmee, lights began to pass to and fro through the yard, and the sound of several hundred hammers were heard ringing on the guns. At first all were at a loss to account for this strange procedure, but were soon convinced that the work of destruction had commenced afresh, and that they were then spiking the guns, and otherwise damaging the heavy ordnance; all the small arms having been previously plaead on board the Cumberland.

Between 8 and 9 o'clock, three of our citizens, prompted by curiosity alone, put out in the river in a small boat to observe what was going on. They had not proceeded far, when they were intercepted by a boat from the Previer. One of the party plunged into the water, and made for the shore. The officer in the Pawner's boat attempted to prevent his escape, and firing, missed the fugitive, and killed one of his own men, shooting him through the neck.

About ten or eleven o'clock, when the defenceless city was enveloped in darkness, the startling cry, "fire! fire!" was heard, with the tolling of the fire bells. Going to the upper story of my dwelling, I discovered that a portion of the buildings of the yard were in flames. Hastily dressing, I proceeded to the ferry wharf, where a large crowd had gathered.

painful aspect of this whole transaction is presented in the hypoerisy in which it was planned and executed. Professions of friendship and sympathy for the South, and Virginia particularly, and the solemn promise a dozen times made, that the yard should not be fired, threw her people entirely off their guard.

The parties most prominent in this transaction are Commodore McCa uley, (chief in command here,) and one Commodore Pendegrast, said to be a Kentuckian, and supposed to have been removed from the command of the Galf Squadron.

From accounts given by the two men who were taken prisoners, but have been set at liberty, those ships were anxious to shell these two towns, and would have done so upon the least provocation. But thanks to God, they could get no excuse to shed our bleed.

The fire at the yard did not a tenth of the damage we expected, nor in all probability what the incordiaries intended, and what they did destroy was such as we had least

The spiking of the guns was mere child's play, as some of them were removed with a pen knife. They laid a mine under the dry dock, but the explosion did not take place. The loundry, lumber houses, machinery of every description, naval storehouse, smithery, stables, Commodore's quarters and armory, with any amount of ordnance and ordn mee stores-except small arms-are in our The horses and ozen were unburt and were of great use yesterday in hauling heavy guns, &c., to the Naval Hospital, where we are throwing up earth works for a battery of six heavy Dalhgreen and Paixhan guns.

The appointment by Lincoln, of G. W. Lane, as U. S. Marshal for the Northern District of Alabama, was announced some weeks since. A report went North to the effect that Lune accepted the position; whereat, there was loud rejoicing all over Yankeedon. The Hantsville "Democrat" announces the acceptance of Judge Inne as follows:---"On Salarday last, at the military meeting to raise volunteers, Judge Lane, whom Lincola appointed Federal Judge for Alabama, arose and stated in substance, that abuse and obloquy had been hurled at him for pared fresh, by supposed disloyalty to the South, and desiring to vindicate his loyalty, although he was fifty-five years old, he was ready to join a volunteer company of men of 45, or upwards, to defend the South, and, accordingly, recorded his name as a volunteer to defend the South."

MAYOR'S OFFICE. ALEXANDRIA, April 22, 1861.

Parents, gnordians, and those having the control of enindren and minors, are particularly requested to keep those under their charge out of the streets after pight, and to watch over their conduct during the day, otherwise under the pregent state of affairs in our community the results to thom may be dangerous.

This is advisory, and it is hoped that those to whom it is addressed, will see the necessity of this notice, and be governed by it. W. B. PRICE, Mayor.

For We take pleasure in proposing the name of Major J. Richands Smoot, as a suitable percon to represent this County in the next House of Delegates. As the rural districts hold the balance of power, and have never yet had a representative. simple justice requires that they should have the delegate, inarmech as the city is claiming both State Senator and member of Congress. MANY VOTERS.

Me" The name of H. O. Chaughton is presenand to the voters of this Secretorial District, as a gentleman eminently qualified to represent their interests in this department of the State government; and as Alexandria is entitled to the choice of a candidate at this time, his selection for this position, will be urged by MANY CITIZENS.
